About the Property

What a view! And as much as we understand that is what we're really selling, the house is great too - water views no matter what you're doing or where you are in this house!! And 5600Sf of very high end, comfortable, and functional living space. The home has been a primary residence since it was built and has been maintained and updated as such since then. The kitchen, dining, and main living area is a chef and host's dream and plenty of additional living space accommodates extended family and friends. Master bedroom is large, comfortable, plenty of storage, and a large luxury bath with a beautiful, tiled shower and soaking tub overlooking the Bay. Four other bedrooms and three additional baths allow for comfort and privacy for family and guests. Decks with spectacular views, and a long ...
