About the Property

Here's an absolutely lovely, affordable one story ranch home located on an oversized corner lot in a quiet Egg Harbor Township neighborhood. Set at the end of the street across from acres of woods it feels very private. The home sits up off the street with a good sized driveway with parking for two cars and tons of street parking. In the back yard you will find a large private deck, a good sized storage shed with electricity and a fenced in yard. Inside, the home is well maintained and all the interior doors and trim have been recently replaced. There's a living room, kitchen, dining area, laundry/heater room and three bedrooms and hall bath. There's also a pull down attic for storage. The heater and the central air were both replaced in 2017, as was the gas hot water heater. You
