About the Property

* NO MORE SHOWINGS Wake up to the water. This one sits at the marsh edge with the creeks winding out toward the bay, and the view changes with every tide and every hour. Nothing built between you and it. On a clear day the Atlantic City skyline sits right on the horizon. Inside, the home opens up the moment you walk in. Vaulted ceilings, skylights, a fireplace, and sliders across the back that pull the marsh into the living room. The kitchen sits open to it all with granite counters, subway tile, stainless appliances, gas cooking, a center island, and a pantry. Two bedrooms and a powder room on the main level. One of them is big enough for two full beds, which matters when the whole family comes down for the weekend. Upstairs, an open loft overlooks the living space, with walk-in s ...
